1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 55-108 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 07090123 or Varughese or "Chemical Attraction Between Epoxidized Natural Rubber and Silica: Studies on Cure Characteristics and low Temperature Dynamic Mechanical Properties."

3. The rejection set forth in the paper mailed 11/05/2003 is deemed proper and is herein repeated. Applicants remarks filed February 4, 2004 have been fully considered and have been found not persuasive.

4. The claims have been amended to state that the material has an effective degree of crosslinking when subjected to specified heating. This is a property limitation and is presumed to be either anticipated or rendered obvious by compositions having the claimed compositional ingredients in the same amounts. The art shows the compositional ingredients in the amounts as claimed. As such the art is presumed to possess properties which either anticipate or render obvious the claimed property. Simply because the art is silent to the claimed property does not mean that the property is not anticipated or rendered obvious by the art. Applicants have failed to show or advance rationale as to why the prior art would not possess properties which anticipate or render obvious those claimed.

Art Unit: 1713

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
